mean maint non-fi readir increa cultur recom identii makin prepa unde mean asking drawii predicti summ identii discus disting retriev partici explai where provid spell s contin use ki	y their growing knowledge of root words, prefixes and suffixes (morphology and etymology), as listed in English Appendix 1, both to read aloud and to understand the ning of new words that they meet. Intail positive stritudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, liction and reference books or textbooks Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intail positive structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes Intition and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing Intition and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing Intition and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing Intition and across books Intition and across books Intition and across books Intition and across books they are read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the intition of words in the meaning is clear to an audience erestand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the interestand in provess their understanding and exploring the interestand in the exploring their makes of the provi
maind non-file readire readire recommend identification asking drawing drawing drawing retrieved partice explain where provided spells spells	Intain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, including and reference books or textbooks. Including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other read traditions. In the read of the read of the read to their peers, giving reasons for their choices. In the read of their peers, giving reasons for their choices. In the read of the read of their peers, giving reasons for their choices. In the read of the read of their peers, giving reasons for their choices. In the read of the read readir increa cultur recom identif makin learnii prepa under mean asking drawii predic summ identif discus disting retriev partic explai where provic	ing books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes sasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other mes and traditions mmending books that they have read to their peers, giving reasons for their choices titrying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing ing comparisons within and across books ing a wider range of poetry by heart aring poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the ning of words in context and gruestions to improve their understanding inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence inciting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas the main ideas the properties of fact and opinion is an advaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader inguish between statements of fact and opinion is ever, record and present information from non-liction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them increa cultural recommendation identification in the cultural recommendation identification iden	assing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other ries and traditions mmending books that they have read to their peers, giving reasons for their choices tifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing ing comparisons within and across books ing a wider range of poetry by heart aring poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the ning of words in context and guestions to improve their understanding ing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence liciting what might happen from details stated and implied marsing the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uses and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader nguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary the reasoned justifications for their views.
cultural recommendation identification identificati	mmending books that they have read to their peers, giving reasons for their choices tifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing ing comparisons within and across books ining a wider range of poetry by heart arring poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the ning of words in context ing questions to improve their understanding wing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence liciting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning use and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader inguish between statements of fact and opinion save, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously aim and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views.
identification in identification in identification	tifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing ing comparisons within and across books along a wider range of poetry by heart arring poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the range of words in content or partial properties of the read of the properties of the range of words in content or partial properties of the range of words in content or partial properties of the range of words in content or partial properties of the range of poetry by heart and independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the range of words in content or partial properties of the range of words in content or partial properties of the range of words in content or partial properties of the range of the makin learnii prepa under mean asking drawii predic summ identii discus disting retriev partic explai where provice Spelli use fu	ing comparisons within and across books hing a wider range of poetry by heart aring poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the ning of words in context ing questions to improve their understanding wing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence ilicting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader inguish between statements of fact and opinion seve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary liting (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them learnii prepa undei mean asking drawii predic summ identii discus disting retriev partic explai where provic Spelli use fu	aring a wider range of poetry by heart aring poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the ning of words in context and guestions to improve their understanding ing questions to improve their understanding ing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence licting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader niguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary lide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them prepa under mean asking drawin predict summ identif discus disting retriev partic explai where provice Spelli use fu	arring poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the ning of words in context ing questions to improve their understanding wing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence licting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas trifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader niguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously are not discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views.
under mean asking drawing prediction summarise discussions of the control of the	erstand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the ning of words in context and guestions to improve their understanding wing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence dicting what might happen from details stated and implied a marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uses and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ideas read of their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them mean asking drawin predict summ identif discus disting retriev partic explai where provice Spelli use fu	ning of words in context ng questions to improve their understanding ving inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence licting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader nguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them drawin predict summ identif discus disting retriev partice explai where provice Spelli use fu spell s	wing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence licting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uses and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader inguish between statements of fact and opinion ever, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) Further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them prediction summarised in the summarised summarised in the summarised summarised in the summarised s	iciting what might happen from details stated and implied marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader nguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them summidentification identification id	marising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader nguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them identification identi	tifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader nguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them discus disting retriev partice explai where provid Spelli use fu	uss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader Inquish between statements of fact and opinion Eve, record and present information from non-fiction Cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them retriev partice explai where provid Spelli use fu	nguish between statements of fact and opinion eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them partice partice explain where provide spelling use further spelling spellin	eve, record and present information from non-fiction cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them partice explait where provide Spellit use full spellits	cipate in discussions about books that are read to them & those they can read for themselves, building on their own & others' ideas and challenging views courteously ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Iling (see English Appendix 1) explai where provid	ain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Illing (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them spelli use fu	re necessary ide reasoned justifications for their views. Iling (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them Spelli use fu	ide reasoned justifications for their views. Iling (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them
Spelli use fu	Iling (see English Appendix 1) further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them use fu	further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them some words with 'silent' letters [for example knight insalm solemn] use ki	roome words with short letters for example, kingin, potenting use k	inue to distinguish between homophones and other words which are often confused use d	knowledge of morphology and etymology in spelling and understand that the spelling of some words needs to be learnt specifically, as listed English Appendix 1 usc u	dictionaries to check the spelling and meaning of words the first three or four letters of a word to check spelling, meaning or both of these in a dictionary use a	a thesaurus.
write	e legibly, fluently and with increasing speed by:
	osing which shape of a letter to use when given choices and deciding whether or not to join specific letters choos	osing the writing implement that is best suited for a task.
	their writing by: tifying the audience for and purpose of the writing, selecting the appropriate form and using other similar writing as models for their own ng and developing initial ideas, drawing on reading and research where necessary in writ	riting narratives, considering how authors have developed characters and settings in what pupils have read, listened to or seen performed draft	t and write by: selecting appropriate grammar and vocabulary, understanding how such choices can change and enhance meaning in nar	arratives, describing settings, characters and atmosphere and integrating dialogue to convey character and advance the action précis	ising longer passages using	g a wide range of devices to build cohesion within and across paragraphs g further organisational and presentational devices to structure text and to guide the reader [for example, headings, bullet points, underlining] uate and edit by:
	essing the effectiveness of their own and others' writing osing changes to vocabulary, grammar and punctuation to enhance effects and clarify meaning ensur	uring the consistent and correct use of tense throughout a piece of writing ensur	uring correct subject and verb agreement when using singular and plural, distinguishing between the language of speech and writing and choosing the appropriate regist	ster f-read for spelling and punctuation errors orm their own compositions, using appropriate intonation, volume, and movement so that meaning is clear.
·
writing	elop their understanding of the concepts set out in English Appendix 2 by: recognising vocabulary and structures that are appropriate for formal speech and ng, including subjunctive forms g passive verbs to affect the presentation of information in a sentence g the perfect form of verbs to mark relationships of time and cause g expanded noun phrases to convey complicated information concisely g modal verbs or adverbs to indicate degrees of possibility using	g relative clauses beginning with who, which, where, when, whose, that or with an implied (i.e. omitted) relative pronoun 1 :	ning the grammar for years 5 and 6 in English Appendix 2 indica	cate grammatical and other features by: using commas to clarify meaning or avoid ambiguity in writing g hyphens to avoid ambiguity /// using brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis //// using semi-colons, colons or dashes to mark boundaries veen independent clauses betwee	ig a colon to introduce a list /// punctuating bullet points consistently	1

APPENDIX 1 – Years 5 and 6 - Spelling

Statutory	Rules and Guidance - (All children should be able to understand the Grammar and Punctuation in	Example Words Requirement	Years 1 to 4 in addition to the below)
Endings which sound like /ʃəs/ spelt -cious or - tious	Not many common words end like this. If the root word ends in -ce , the /ʃ/ sound is usually spelt as c – e.g. vice – vicious , grace – gracious , space – spacious , malice – malicious .	vicious, precious, conscious, delicious, malicious, suspicious ambitious, cautious, fictitious, infectious, nutritious Exception: anxious.
Endings which sound like /∫əl/	 -cial is common after a vowel letter and -tial after a consonant letter, but there are some exceptions. Exceptions: initial, financial, commercial, provincial (the spelling of the last three is clearly related to finance, commerce and province). 	official, special, artificial, partial, confidential, essential
Words ending in -ant, -ance/-ancy, -ent,	Use -ant and -ance/-ancy if there is a related word with a /æ/ or /eɪ/ sound in the right position; -ation endings are often a clue. Use -ent and -ence/-ency after soft c (/s/ sound), soft g (/dʒ/ sound) and qu , or if there is a related word with a clear /ε/ sound in the right position.	innocent, innocence, decent, decency, frequent, frequency, confident,
-ence/-ency	There are many words, however, where the above guidance does not help. These words just have to be learnt. If the -able ending is added to a word ending in -ce or -ge , the e after the c or g must be kept as those letters would otherwise have their 'hard' sounds (as in cap and gap) before the a of the -able ending. // The -able ending is usually but not always used if a complete root word can be heard before it, even if there is no related word ending in -ation . The first five examples opposite are obvious; in reliable , the complete word rely is heard, but the y changes to i in accordance with the rule. // The -ible ending is common if a complete root word can't be heard before it but it also sometimes occurs when a complete word can be heard (e.g. sensible).	confidence (confidential) assistant, assistance, obedient, obedience, independent, independence
Words ending in -able and -ible Words ending in -ably and -ibly	The -able/-ably endings are far more common than the -ible/-ibly endings. As with -ant and -ance/-ancy , the -able ending is used if there is a related word ending in -ation .	adorable/adorably (adoration), applicable/applicably (application), considerable/considerably (consideration), tolerable/tolerably (toleration) changeable, noticeable, forcible, legible dependable, comfortable, understandable, reasonable, enjoyable, reliable possible/possibly, horrible/horribly, terrible/terribly, visible/visibly, incredible/incredibly, sensible/sensibly
Adding suffixes beginning with	The r is doubled if the -fer is still stressed when the ending is added.	referring, referred, referral, preferring, preferred, transferring, transferred vowel letters to words ending in –fer	The r is not doubled if the -fer is no longer stressed.	reference, referee, preference, transference
Use of the hyphen	Hyphens can be used to join a prefix to a root word, especially if the prefix ends in a vowel letter and the root word also begins with one.	co-ordinate, re-enter, co-operate, co-own
Words with the /i:/ sound spelt ei after c	The 'i before e except after c ' rule applies to words where the sound spelt by e i is /i:/. Exceptions : protein, caffeine, seize (and either and neither if pronounced with an initial /i:/ sound).	deceive, conceive, receive, perceive, ceiling
Words containing the letter-string ough	ough is one of the trickiest spellings in English – it can be used to spell a number of different sounds.	ought, bought, thought, nought, brought, fought, rough, tough, enough, cough though, although, dough, through thorough, borough /// plough, bough
Words with 'silent' letters	(i.e. letters whose presence cannot be predicted from the pronunciation of the word)	doubt, island, lamb, solemn, thistle, knight
	Some letters which are no longer sounded used to be sounded hundreds of years ago: e.g. in knight , there was a /k/ sound before the /n/, and the gh used to represent the sound that 'ch' now represents in the Scottish word loch .
Homophones and other words that are often confused	In the pairs of words opposite, nouns end —ce and verbs end —se. Advice and advise provide a useful clue as the word advise (verb) is pronounced with a /z/ sound — which could not be spelt c. More examples: aisle: a gangway between seats (in a church, train, plane). isle: an island. aloud: out loud. allowed: permitted. affect: usually a verb (e.g. The weather may affect our plans). effect: usually a noun (e.g. It may have an effect on our plans). If a verb, it means 'bring about' (e.g. He will effect changes in the running of the business). altar: a table-like piece of furniture in a church. alter: to change. ascent: the act of ascending (going up). assent: to agree/agreement (verb and noun). bridal: to do with a bride at a wedding. bridle: reins etc. for controlling a horse. cereal: made from grain (e.g. breakfast cereal). serial: adjective from the noun series — a succession of things one after the other. compliment: to make nice remarks about someone (verb) or the remark that is made (noun). complement: related to the word complete — to make something complete or more complete (e.g. her scarf complemented her outfit). descent: the act of descending (going down). dissent: to disagree/disagreement (verb and noun). desert: as a noun — a barren place (stress on first syllable); as a verb — to abandon (stress on second syllable) dessert: (stress on second syllable) a sweet course after the main course of a meal.	advice/advise device/devise licence/license practice/practise prophecy/prophesy farther: further father: parent guessed: past tense of the verb guess guest: visitor heard: past tense of the verb hear herd: a group of animals led: past tense of the verb lead lead: present tense of that verb, or else the metal which is very heavy (as heavy as lead) morning: before noon mourning: grieving for someone who has died past: noun or adjective referring to a previous time (e.g. In the past) or preposition or adverb showing place (e.g. he walked past me) passed: past tense of the verb 'pass' (e.g. I passed him in the road) precede: go in front of or before proceed: go on principal: adjective – most important (e.g. principal ballerina) noun – important person (e.g. principal of a college) principle: basic truth or belief profit: money that is made in selling things prophet: someone who foretells the future stationary: not moving stationery: paper, envelopes etc. steal: take something that does not belong to you steel: metal draft: noun – a first attempt at writing something; verb – to make the first attempt; also, to draw in someone (e.g. to draft in extra help) draught: a current of air.	wary: cautious weary: tired who's: contraction of who is or who has whose: belonging to someone (e.g. Whose jacket is that?)

Word List – Spellings – Year 5 and 6

accommodate	available	Competition	determined	existence	immediate(ly)	neighbour	programme	shoulder	twelfth accompany	average	conscience*	develop	explanation	individual	nuisance	pronunciation	signature	variety according	awkward	conscious*	dictionary	familiar	interfere	occupy	queue	sincere(ly)	vegetable achieve	bargain	controversy	disastrous	foreign	interrupt	occur	recognise	soldier	vehicle aggressive	bruise	convenience	embarrass	forty	language	opportunity	recommend	stomach	yacht amateur	category	correspond	environment	frequently	leisure	parliament	relevant	sufficient ancient	cemetery	criticise (critic +	equip (-ped, -	government	lightning	persuade	restaurant	suggest apparent	committee	ise)	ment)	guarantee	marvellous	physical	rhyme	symbol appreciate	communicate	curiosity	especially	harass	mischievous	prejudice	rhythm	system attached	community	definite	exaggerate	hindrance	muscle	privilege	sacrifice	temperature desperate	excellent		necessary	profession	secretary	thorough

APPENDIX 2 – Year 5 – Vocabulary Grammar and Punctuation

Converting nouns or adjectives into verbs using suffixes [for example, -ate; -ise; -ify] Verb prefixes [for example, dis-, de-, mis-, over- and re-] Relative clauses beginning with who, which, where, when, whose, that, or an omitted relative pronoun Indicating degrees of possibility using adverbs [for example, perhaps, surely] or modal verbs [for example, might, should, will, must]
Devices to build cohesion within a paragraph [for example, then, after that, this, firstly] Linking ideas across paragraphs using adverbials of time [for example, later], place [for example, nearby] and number [for example, secondly] or tense choices [for example, he had seen her before] Brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis Use of commas to clarify meaning or avoid ambiguity preposition conjunction word family, prefix clause, subordinate clause direct speech consonant, consonant letter vowel, vowel letter					